Opponent To Senator Tydings
Of Maryland Con-

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Democratic cleavage between the 100 per cent New Dealers and those recalcitrants who have opposed much of President Roosevelt's legislative program widened perceptibly today.

To Oppose Tydings.

Within an hour after he had been to the White House, Rep. David J. Lewis, a veteran progressive Democrat who has been in the forefront in supporting the administration, announced he would oppose Senator Millard E. Tydings in the Maryland primary in September. Tydings, a conservative, has probably been as anti-New Deal as any member of the senate in his voting record.

Asked pointblank whether he had been assured of White House support in his race, Lewis replied: "The White House speaks for itself." The White House will find it hard to let the Democrats of Maryland know that it prefers Lewis to Tydings.

New Candidates In Georgia.

In Georgia, where it appeared the conservative Senator Walter F. George might slip through unopposed, there appeared in the field a 100 per cent New Deal opponent in the person of Lawrence S. Camp, a federal district attorney. Camp's announcement followed the decision of Gov. Ed Rivers to run for reelection instead of opposing George. Ex-Gov. Eugene Talmadge, who once was committed to the platform of keeping the New Deal "out of Georgia," is a third candidate in this state.

PA NEW OBSERVES

W.P.A. authorities are making plans for the opening of a stone quarry along the Slippery Rock creek in the vicinity of Kennedy's Mills. This would eliminate long hauls of stone to be used in road building and walls.

We've heard about fishermen's luck. About five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, we saw an automobile parked near the Post Office and four of the occupants standing around the fifth, who was fixing a "flat" tire. There were three flats in all, and they had fixed one before starting. They were on their way to some fishing.

Standing just inside the entrance to the Sylvan Heights golf course for several days, has been a monument to some auto driver's mental laxity. The owner was driving out the driveway, when another motorist started in. He noticed some players teeing off on No. 17 tee and became so engrossed in their actions that he forgot where he was going and ran smack into the front of the other car, which happened to be one of these annual driver touring cars. It just folded up and collapsed.

A new technique has been developed by the chief night blower of the fire whistle located at the Union Brewery. When Box 124 was pulled at 12:30 this morning, the whistle gave one long blast and followed with 14 short ones. Most people lost track of the count and couldn't figure out what the number was. The alarm proved to be false.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2.—President Roosevelt today started a new class of navy ensigns on their career with a funny story and the serious admonition they must constantly seek to broaden into other fields the specialized education they received at the naval academy.

Acting in his capacity as commander-in-chief of the navy, the president handed out diplomas to 435 graduates of the 1938 class. Then he stood smiling as the cadets, corps signalled the end of another year by tossing their white caps high into the air and singing the navy hymn and "Auld Lang Syne."

Address Is Brief

Mr. Roosevelt's address was brief, and brought to a close the colorful annual exercises of June week at the academy. He did not touch on world affairs as such, nor did he take advantage of the opportunity.

Advance Toward Port Of Cas-

ment Post In Spain

(International News Service)

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish border, June 2.—Insurgent Spanish troops driving south along the Mediterranean coast advanced two miles along the 10-mile battle front toward the government port of Castellon, according to an insurgent communiqué issued at Salamanca today.

Government counter-attacks were repulsed and more than 150 government troops were killed and 200 captured, the statement said. Several hills near Monpero Hill and Villa Rejonas as well as government positions at Ertal Hill were captured by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops, it was asserted.

Many Are Killed

On the Tercel front, 200 troops were killed and 284 were taken prisoner, according to the communiqué. A government dispatches from Valencia said 16 persons were killed and 40 wounded when insurgent planes raided the villages of Segorbe, Valdetron and the Port of Castellon. Barcelona issued a communiqué claiming 12 insurgent planes and two government units were shot down in another air battle over the Tercel front between Tercel and the Mediterranean sea.

Heavy bombing, in which a number of towns on the Valencia and Tercel sectors changed hands, was reported. Insurgent attacks were repulsed with heavy losses, the government announced.

Troops Not Withdrawn From Czech Frontier

BRATISLAVA, June 2.—Czechoslovakia's 150,000 troops, still stands at every threshold of her frontier against the massive war potential of Germany's 75,000,000.

And here today in the capital of Slovakia, preparations made two weeks ago to evacuate all women and children from the threat of German guns have not been forgotten. Statements abroad to the effect that considerable withdrawals of Czechoslovak troops have been made from the frontier are without foundation.

Among the reports which brought about Europe's most acute crisis two weeks ago was information received by Prague that heavy German artillery had been moved up to Hainberg on the frontier, just five miles from this city.

Least Fortified Border
Along this border the Czech government had fortified least of all, because it faced Austria, small, friendly and peaceful.

Overnight it became Germany and the Czech general staff knew that one of its most difficult problems in the event of war would be to guard against possible German attack from Ratibor on the north and Nikolsburg on the south designed to pinch the long, narrow body of Czechoslovakia in two.

In this city 150,000 lie within the focus of such a maneuver, and with easy shelling distance of the German frontier artillery.

Czech authorities remembered the fate of Madrid and determined at the first shot to send all non-combatants to the interior.

Their decision illuminates the Czechoslovak conception of the gravity of that moment.

Wage-Hour Legislation Before Congress Quits

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Told that congress will be kept in session until wage and hour legislation is finally enacted, conferees today began their executive meetings to thrash out the controversial differences of the senate and house bills. As they met for their initial meeting, congressional leaders let it be known that "there will be no going home" until a bill suitable to both houses has been sent to President Roosevelt for his signature.

The warning was given out following a forecast of a bitter and lengthy struggle over the legislation by Senators Walsh (D) of Massachusetts, and Borah (R) of Idaho, members of the Senate conference committee. Administration leaders, however, were confident that the struggle over pay differentials for the south and other sections of the country can be worked out in time to permit congress to adjourn by June 10.

PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Breadless days seemed in store for Pittsburghers and their adjacent neighbors today as 1400 truck drivers employed by the 35 major bakeries within a 60-mile radius of the city walked out on strike.

Deliveries of bread to 15,000 independent merchants and several hundred thousand homes were halted by the pre-arranged move of the drivers last night. With the strike of the drivers, 3,800 bakery employees were thrown out of work as the companies closed down and refused to operate.

Advance output was curtailed as the deadline for the strike neared.

BRADFORD, Pa., June 2.—The grief-stricken mother of missing Marjory West today made a last tragic plea for her return on her 5th birthday.

"Won't you return Marjory to me today, her birthday," the mother, Mrs. Shirley M. West, pleaded in a radio broadcast.

She promised no reprisals against any abductors if the child was safely returned and warned she and her husband would never give up the hunt until the child's fate was established.

Despite an intensive manhunt for days through the woods at nearby White Gravel where the child disappeared while picking flowers, she was never found. State police with a skeleton staff meanwhile were continuing the hunt. Rewards of several thousand dollars for the child's return have been posted.

BARKLEY SEEKS TO PASS BILL TODAY

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Racing toward speedy passage of the $2,250,000,000 relief-recovery bill, the senate was in an uproar today over amendments to earmark public works administration funds.

Final passage of the bill today was the goal of majority leader Barkley. He served notice the senate would be kept in session far into the night if necessary, to pass the bill and send it to conference with the house which already has passed it in somewhat different form.

In addition to the fight over earmarking of PWA funds, the senate faced a titanic struggle over an appropriations committee amendment to prohibit use of PWA funds for construction of municipal electric power plants.

President Asks Power

Barkley predicted the drives for earmarking PWA funds and for the ban upon competition with private power companies would be smashed, leaving intact the provisions to give President Roosevelt broad discretionary power over projects that shall be constructed.

President Roosevelt's letter to Senator Adams (D) of Colorado, yesterday, urging that the administration be given wide discretion in expending the appropriations in the bill, because of what he characterized as emergency unemployment conditions, found the Democrats rallying to his banner.

Proposed amendments of a Democratic-Republican coalition to kill all provisions for PWA pump-priming projects and to boost the funds for WPA, appeared certain of defeat.

However, Senators Copeland (D) of New York, and Bailey (D) of North Carolina, continued their battle for PWA earmarking amendments. Copeland would have $325,000,000 allotted to the War department for construction of river, harbor and flood control projects already approved by the department's engineers.

Both were indicted in Kentucky for fraud shortly before Mrs. Cummings was killed. The prosecution held Mrs. Barker killed Mrs. Cummings because she feared Mrs. Cummings would reveal the full operations of the Barker syndicate.

Mrs. Cummings was shot to death two days before both women were to have appeared at an extradition hearing on the Kentucky indictments.

After hearing the verdict Judge Ira W. Jayne announced from the bench he will pass sentence as soon as he receives a report from the probation department.

Spring Reunion Of Consistory Here Next Week

Many Events Are Planned
For The Entertainment Of Members And Visitors

Plans have been completed for the annual spring reunion of the Co-ordinate bodies of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of New Castle, which will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in The Cathedral.

Old-fashioned fellowship will prevail. Commander-in-Chief S. Reed McGowan announces and a number of events have been planned to make the reunion as attractive as possible to members and visitors.

Wednesday will be observed as Ladies' Day and there will be a special party for the women folks starting at 4 o'clock. From 4 to 6:30 o'clock there will be special entertainment, followed by dinner for all at 6:30. The concluding feature of the closing day's program will be an entertainment and talking picture in the auditorium followed by dancing and cards.

Many candidates are expected present for the degree work and indications point to the largest class in recent years.

Report Russia Plans To Give China Aid

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 2.—A part calling for dispatch of military aid by Russia to the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek against the military legions of Japan has been signed in Moscow, the London Daily Mail reported today in a Riga, Latvia, dispatch.

The paper said the Soviets will send two motorized divisions of troops, 72 airplanes, and a large number of Russian military specialists who will assist in reorganizing China's war administration.

According to the report, the experts from the U. S. S. R. also will aid in directing Chinese propaganda against Japan.

The newspaper added that the treaty was negotiated in the Russian capital by Dr. Sun Fo.

Other reports published in London said that it was understood Dr. Sun Fo had concluded a nine-power agreement. He was said to have left Moscow Sunday for an announced destination.

Some dispatches said the Russians are preparing to land further aid to China in the war against Japan.

MIAMI, Fla., June 2.—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, has arrived in Miami to take personal charge of the investigation of the kidnaping last Saturday night of 5-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., at Princeton, near here, it was reported today.

There was no comment forthcoming from the FBI office regarding the reports, however.

One federal officer, when asked if Hoover had taken charge, smiled but said nothing.

Three Persons Questioned

Princeton, Fla., June 2.—Three persons—a middle-aged carpenter and his son and a former federal convict—were questioned by G-men today as more than 1,500 persons resumed the search for 5-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., who was kidnaped from the home of his parents here Saturday night.

As the searchers set out this morning through the rain, it was indicated the posse would be swelled to at least 2,500 men and boys by afternoon.

Search for the child, for whose release the father paid a $10,000 ransom early Tuesday, was spurred by the Dade county commission, which offered a conditional reward of $1,000.

Conditions of the reward were left for the federal agents to decide. Those left for questioning by the FBI at Miami are M. F. Braxton, a carpenter who was taken into custody near the scene of the kidnaping just before noon Saturday; Braxton's son, Warren, 25, who later voluntarily went to the FBI office and was detained for questioning; and Willard Campbell of Miami, a former convict in the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Intensive Fighting Is Under

Provincial Border

(International News Service)

HONG KONG, June 2.—Intensive fighting was under way tonight along the Anhwei-Honan provincial border as Japan staged a desperate effort to save the famous 14th division of General Kenji Doihara from extermination.

The Japanese have already penetrated powerful opposition and captured the city of Luyi in the Lun-shui railroad sector.

The Nipponese sought to turn the tables on the Chinese by isolating their huge army. With some 10,000 troops, Gen. Doihara is surrounded northeast of Lanfeng, the important railroad center which the Chinese last Saturday won back from the Japanese.

In sauce or catsup or in soup, they're mighty tasty I have found, but cash they take a lot of work, when you must put them in the ground. Your back feels like a rusty hinge, your arms are sore, your shoulders droop, and after planting several flats, your eyes get dull, you slump and stoop. But looking forward to the tell when they will open, seems to me, they're worth the aches and bumps and pains, the weather's damp and eighty-three.

Shelley Has Conference With Margiotti

Discuss Plans For State Probe

Margiotti Believes Situation Is Now "Well In Hand," He Says

COURT DIRECTIONS TO BE FOLLOWED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Confidence that District Attorney Carl B. Shelley of Dauphin county has the proposed grand jury investigation of graft and corruption charges against the Earle administration "well in hand," was expressed today by former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti following a conference here with Shelley.

Shelley and his assistant, Attorney Samuel H. Hader, flew here from Harrisburg, conferred with Margiotti at the hotel, and then returned to Harrisburg. Shelley has been ordered by the state supreme court to amend his petition for the grand jury probe into more specific form.

Conference Satisfactory.
"I have ample material to amend it which I propose to do," Shelley said. He said his conference with Margiotti was satisfactory and replied "certainly" when asked whether he believed the amended petition would meet the supreme court's demands.

When asked whether the grand jury had the power to begin a probe of its own by disregarding the supreme court's stipulations, Shelley said he believed it had such power but added:

"We're going to follow the directions of the court. We're not trying to circumvent their opinions by short cuts."

BAKERY TRUCK DRIVERS STRIKE

Operators did this, they said, to prevent having an over-supply in case the strike failed to materialize.

Speaking through a central committee, managers of the companies indicated they would make no move to resume business pending settlement of the walkout which they said closed down half of western Pennsylvania's baking industry.

Pittsburgh Area Involved
Ralph E. Thorn, president of the local bakery drivers' union which called the men out said "the strike is on and we are picketing." George E. Frazier, Union business agent, said deliveries would be made to hospitals and other institutions.

The strike zone, he continued, covers many adjacent communities including Butler, Greensburg, Beaver Falls, Washington and New Kensington.

Wages were not involved in the dispute. The union, officials said, called the strike to enforce demands for a closed shop agreement, protection of minority rights and use of the union label on all wrapped products.

ANTI-NEW DEAL CANDIDATES ARE TO BE OPPOSED

In Nevada, two opponents have sprung up against Senator Pat McCarran, who has differed with the administration on many issues. They are Dr. John W. Warden, secretary of the state board of health, and Albert Hillard, Reno attorney, both strong administration supporters. McCarran was one of the leaders against the Roosevelt supreme court bill.

Schism Widens.
Thus on a steadily widening front is seen the schism in Democratic ranks, which may have an important bearing on the 1940 situation.

There is no direct evidence that these New Deal candidates in Maryland, Georgia and Nevada were inspired by the White House. But at the same time there is little doubt that they were inspired by persons close thereto.

Already, the White House has openly backed Senator Barkley, the senate leader, in Kentucky in his race against Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler; Senator McAdoo in California; Senator Duffy in Wisconsin; and Senator Elmer Thomas in Oklahoma. This quarter, all loyal New Dealers have received open endorsement, which will be reinforced later on when President Roosevelt makes a leisurely swing to the Pacific coast. He will visit Kentucky just before the primary in August, and extend his trip into Oklahoma and on to California.

Headache For Farley.
All of which provides a considerable headache for James A. Farley, who as Democratic national chairman, has consistently advocated keeping "hands off" these Democratic family rows in the primaries. Farley departed only once from his policy in Pennsylvania, where he advocated a compromise—and the result there was not to the administration's liking.

This split between New Deal and anti-New Deal Democrats is so much of a headache to "Big Jim" in fact, that he plans to pick up and go away from it all early in July. He is taking his children on a visit to the national parks of the west and thence on to Alaska, planning to be gone for six weeks or so. That period of six weeks encompasses a good many primary elections.

The Maryland contest between Tydings and Lewis will afford an interesting test of Democratic sentiment toward the New Deal.

Relief Board Members Guests
For the purpose of having the board members meet the employees of the Lawrence County Relief, a dinner was held in The Castleton hotel on Wednesday night, June 1.

D. J. Albert, president of the Lawrence County Relief Employees Association acted as chairman but no speeches were made. The employees discussed their problems with the board members and through the meeting, a better understanding of the problems confronting employees and board members was had.

The fuel bill of U. S. railroads for 1937 was more than $294,000,000.

Central West Executives To Attend Conference At Camp Rentz

NEW KENSINGTON MAN TO PRESIDE

General secretaries and their staffs from all the Young Men's Christian Associations of central Western Pennsylvania will attend a morning and afternoon conference at Camp Fred L. Rentz, the New Castle "Y" camp along Slippery Rock creek, on Friday.

General Secretary Robert L. Meermans of the local organization will be official host. He said 20 or more "Y" executives are expected. Opening at 10 a. m., the program continues until dinner at noon. Election of officers for the coming year is included on the morning program. The visiting group will inspect the camp in the afternoon.

George D. Wheeler, general secretary at New Kensington and president of the group, will preside over the conference.

GRADUATE 435 AT NAVAL ACADEMY

As some expected, to restate this country's foreign or defense policies.

The serious phase of the president's talk emphasized the recent action of Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson who decreed that graduating midshipmen before their commissions become permanent, must complete a course of reading designed to carry mental training into fields beyond the highly technical training of the academy curriculum.

"No matter whether your specialty is naval science, or medicine or the law, or teaching, or the church, or the civil service or public service, the president continued, the young cadets, "remember that you will never reach the top and stay at the top unless you are well-grounded in your knowledge of all the other factors in modern civilization that lie outside of your own special profession."

"This applies to all of world thought and world problems out it applies, of course, with special emphasis to the thought and problems of our own nation."

Humorous Reference
The president's humorous reference brought smiles to the faces of the midshipmen. He told of another visit he paid to the academy for graduation exercises, during the world war when he was assistant secretary of the navy, weary and sleepless.

"Because of the strenuous work in the navy department," explained the president, "I was a bit in arrears on sleep. The temperature in this hall was in the neighborhood of a hundred. There I was sitting on the right of the superintendent of the naval academy."

"The speaker of the occasion began his address. My eyes slowly but firmly closed. I think my mouth fell open. I slept unconsciously but soundly directly in front of the eyes of the entire graduating class. Could anything be more un-military, more humiliating—but more satisfactory?"

Most of the remainder of the president's brief address was devoted to the imperative need for the navy men to broaden their outlook on life in general beyond the confines of their immediate career. This he told the cadet corps, was most important, and would contribute greatly to the primary objective of navy men, the proving that they are also "thorough-going, up-to-date, intelligent American citizens."

"Preliminary knowledge of this kind you have," the president said.

young woman and a young man were questioned last night but were later released. Their names could not be learned.

Reports that about 30 other persons had been picked up for questioning and sent to various jails in the county could not be confirmed. G-men had no comment to make concerning the rumor, but the sheriff's office in Miami denied any suspects were held in the county jail.

G-men refused to discuss the reasons for their arrest of the three persons held. Campbell, who was arrested in Miami last night, had been under surveillance for several days, it was reported. Campbell's divorced wife lives near the spot where the ransom money was paid, but she refused to talk to reporters.

Braxton's wife said she was at a loss to explain the seizure of her husband. She said she believed he had stopped at the Cash filling station on Saturday, the night of the kidnapping, but had returned home and was in bed by 11 p. m. or a little after. The abduction has been placed between 10 and 10:15 p. m.

Broadcast Banknote Numbers
Under directions from J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the F. B. I., the serial numbers of the 150 old banknotes paid over by the boy's father were broadcast late yesterday.

The bills were said to be in denominations of 5, 10, 20 and 50 dollars. Shopkeepers, filling station proprietors, bankers, and others were asked to be on the watchout. Tracking down kidnapers through their spending of the ransom cash has proven profitable for the federal department.

In hope of a quicker solution to the mystery, however, fingerprints were taken of the various articles found yesterday that were believed to have been handled by the gang. They included pieces of brown wrapping paper, a stick believed to have been stained by blood, the shoe box that contained the ransom, and several sandwich wrappings.

The brown paper was said to have contained writing but the text was not disclosed.

All the items were found near the spot where Cash tossed the ransom money from his car early Tuesday after receiving the prearranged signal of blinking automobile lights.

Since it was near several bodies of water, the gangsters were believed to have used the water to wash the boat, crew to prove the swampy rivers running into the back country. Plans also included dragging various water-filled quarries in the vicinity.

Only the distraught father, a well-to-do merchant and the mother remained hopeful today that their only child would be found alive. Other relatives and authorities admitted reluctantly they were convinced the kidnapers had callously killed their victim before bargaining for his release.

Oneida, N. Y., June 2.—Two women who acted in a nervous and strange manner when they brought a child, about five, to a doctor in nearby Chittango shortly before last midnight were sought by state police today.

The doctor treated the child for a throat infection. He permitting the women to leave without obtaining their names and addresses. Later, conscious of the kidnapping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., 5, at Princeton, Fla., he advised police of the incident.

While doubling that the women or child are connected with the Cash case in any manner, Sergeant Charles J. Manning said an attempt is being made to locate the trio. He expressed belief the women are Oneida Lake residents whose child suddenly became ill.

Efforts are being made to contact his wife at Albuquerque, and so no funeral arrangements have been made as yet.

Gift trees are seen decorating sports shops, book, clip and even brooches these days.

Only the distraught father, a well-to-do merchant and the mother remained hopeful today that their only child would be found alive. Other relatives and authorities admitted reluctantly they were convinced the kidnapers had callously killed their victim before bargaining for his release.

See To Locate Trio

Oneida, N. Y., June 2.—Two women who acted in a nervous and strange manner when they brought a child, about five, to a doctor in nearby Chittango shortly before last midnight were sought by state police today.

The doctor treated the child for a throat infection. He permitting the women to leave without obtaining their names and addresses. Later, conscious of the kidnapping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., 5, at Princeton, Fla., he advised police of the incident.

While doubling that the women or child are connected with the Cash case in any manner, Sergeant Charles J. Manning said an attempt is being made to locate the trio. He expressed belief the women are Oneida Lake residents whose child suddenly became ill.

Efforts are being made to contact his wife at Albuquerque, and so no funeral arrangements have been made as yet.

Gift trees are seen decorating sports shops, book, clip and even brooches these days.

observers report that the German army has been withdrawn, probably to Vienna, only about half an hour away from the frontier for mobilized units.

Correspondingly, Czechoslovak troops have been placed in various positions behind the frontier, where they are able to reach and man at full strength the most advanced positions now occupied by Slovakian units.

Also it is confirmed that a certain number of individual Czech reservists, urgently needed for agricultural or other work at home, have been released, although no units have been withdrawn.

Only in this extent has relaxation of the strict border control in spite of Austrian efforts of achieving to prove that peace has been nearly achieved.

New Incident

Berlin, June 2.—Czechoslovakian soldiers with fixed bayonets created a fresh international incident during the night with a raid on a German citizen's house at Senftenberg, the German press said today.

The soldiers, according to stories which created a sensation in this country, seized a sausage case and a picture of Reichsfuhrer Hitler.

Mayor McGrath Raises Question

Asserts Man Turned In Nine Hours Time On City Payroll When Doing Other Work

During council meeting at city hall today Mayor Charles F. McGrath stated he had been informed that a man in the department of streets had turned in nine hours of time for work done for the city when he was doing something other than city work. However, the mayor said he would vote to approve the payroll and prevent the matter from being brought up in a salary case.

The mayor asked Charles O'Brien, clerk of the streets department, if the man who was not named, had

SEWER TROUBLE

Joseph Ritchie, Capenhurst street, today complained to council in city hall that water backed up in a sanitary sewer in his residence. Council authorized an immediate investigation by the sanitary sewer bureau.

JAPAN'S CABINET SHAKEUP

THREE major influences contributed beyond a doubt to the reorganization of the Japanese Cabinet by the inclusion of three prominent generals in key positions. Foremost among them must have been the popular unrest and dissatisfaction because of the severe economic strain of a war designed to last three months, but now after 11 months not within sight of the end; second, determination to demonstrate once and for all that war will be carried on to the bitter end; third, a determination that, in broadest aspects, the conduct of the "China emergency" shall be directed from Tokyo.

The Japanese Army under the domination of a powerful military caste has been, since the Manchurian campaign of 1931, notorious for acting on its own. It has engaged in conquest and stormed "spheres of influence," then looked to Tokyo for an endorsement that had to be forthcoming on penalty of loss of "face."

Living costs in Japan are rising; foreign trade has fallen off because of the proportion of industry devoted to the production of war supplies rather than of goods for export; national credit abroad is dwindling for obvious reasons; the extensiveness of the terrain over which the war has been raised has utilized so much man power in China that there are misgivings about Japan's ability to hold Manchukuo against possible Russian assault.

There are those who think what has taken place fore-shadows the retirement of Premier Konohe, who has hesitated to put into full force the National Mobilization Act, which, for the time being, would leave little vestige of popular rule.

NEVER TOO MANY TELEPHONES

With only six per cent of the world's population, the United States, at the first of last year, had about half of the 37,098,084 telephones in the world. There are now more than 19,500,000 telephones in this country. China, Russia and British India, which together have half the earth's population, had only three-fourths as many telephones as New York City.

These figures, presented by the American Telephone & Telegraph company, constitute something concrete for prideful pointing. Telephones are signposts of progress. They have become to us not luxuries but necessities.

Yet with all these millions of telephones all around us, there are times, notably when a couple of talkative persons keep a wire hot with such earth-shaking things as yesterday's bridge scores, when there don't seem anywhere near enough.

WILD FLOWERS DISAPPEARING

Harvey A. Ward, secretary of the Natural History Society, said in a recent address at Harrisburg that wild flowers will soon be only a memory if their destruction continues at the present rapid rate.

Pennsylvania's hills and mountains are being stripped of their natural flowers by hundreds and thousands of the state's own citizens who, in picking blossoms or digging up plants, are either very thoughtless or deliberately indifferent to the damage they are doing. No doubt each thinks that the few blossoms he plucks or the plants he lifts will make no difference, but when thousands of individuals act on that belief the collective result is astounding destruction.

An indication that the state realizes our wild flowers are being ruthlessly destroyed lies in the fact that the State Forestry Department has established an arboretum near Harrisburg that will preserve at least a remnant of Pennsylvania's flowers for future generations.

Virtually all of us are nature lovers at least to some degree and as such should discourage wanton picking and digging of wild flowers. Most of all, each should restrain himself from being a party to the destruction.

THE END OF HOPE

The fourteenth kidnapping in the United States during a period of six years ends under circumstances reminiscent of the first—circumstances that extinguish the last faint glimmering of hope, that fill the mind of the nation with sorrow and horror, that turn the knife in the wounded hearts of bereaved parents.

Peter D. Levine, twelve-year-old schoolboy of New Rochelle, who was kidnapped from his home on February 24, has been found. His body, mutilated by fiends, has been washed ashore from Long Island Sound. The discovery means the fulfillment of the worst fears, but it also ends the agony of uncertainty.

The killing of the little Levine boy marks the third murder of a kidnapped child and brings another challenge to the agencies of law enforcement and to the processes of justice in the country. Fortunately, there is in the record of these last six years a great deal to sustain the hope that the monsters will not go free, that they will be captured and compelled to feel the heavy weight of the law's hand.

Only in three instances since the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby has retribution failed to overtake the kidnappers. It is to be hoped, both for the sake of justice and as a deterrent against such crimes in the future, that the murderers of the Levine boy will soon be in the toils and soon will expiate their crime in full measure.

A sufficient commentary on today's crisis is that we used to be equally excited about Technocracy.

The arrogant youth who scorns the rules of being fooled. He gets by, yes; but only because somebody else feeds him.

There is no danger of revolution in a land where all belligerents stop when they see a red light or a National Guard.

The charge against the horse-and-buggy era is not that it was slow but that so few were given a horse and buggy by the government.

VARIOUS VICISSITUDES

I met a young man on the street; I said, "Tell me in truth."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BUSINESS WOMAN WRITES

Referring to the first installment by that adolescent girl who ventured to advise parents, which appeared in this column a little while ago, the aunt of another adolescent girl left to her to read, writes:

"Am I to understand that this girl is to be allowed to run wild and I should not know where she is or where she goes at night? And that I am to have nothing to say when she skips school as she does so often? Also, that no mother, for I surely take the place of a mother to this girl, has the right to question her daughter? Let me tell you this: I know a girl who was allowed to go out and come home all hours of the night—only 17—the mother feeling that she could trust her, and this girl is now keeping company with a married man—a man who has a lovely wife and a small baby. The girl told my niece that when she is through high school, this man is going to get a divorce and marry her. I am a business woman, and engaged in welfare work. I am not considered at all narrow; in fact, all the people who know me think I have done a wonderful job with the girl. I realize that girls are different now from what they were when we were young, and, in fact, I would not want her to be, as we were—timid, shy, and had to be home early. When I know where she is, I am willing to have her stay out late, but why should I worry my life away worrying about her, and perhaps at the end have her turn around and say I didn't do right by her? I think at least common civility demands that a girl should tell her parents or her guardian where she is going and with whom. . . . I know mothers who feel the way I do."

If you recall that girl's letter, you remember that her chief complaint was not against the mother's knowing where her daughter is, but against the way so many mothers try to explain this knowledge. Also you will remember that in my comments I expressed the wish that adolescents might better sense the responsibility for them which their parents feel.

As for skipping school, such facts are revealed by the official school report and can and should be controlled by the parents or guardian. It is not so much a question of the parents' rights as what will best guarantee the desired results. And while "common civility" certainly demands that a girl should tell her parents or her guardian where she is going and with whom, we hardly cultivate such civility through a detective scheme or inquisition. That merely motivates deceit. Just how to gain the desired results is not easy to explain, yet some parents do get them. Such parents have set this aunt was hardly able to do, cultivated proper controls in the early years and built upon them self-control and confidence. I have a deal of sympathy with this aunt and admiration for her apparent success with her niece. Best wishes to her.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TWO EX-PRESIDENTS

Once at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Amherst College, of which Calvin Coolidge was a member, two distinguished members, one a famous lawyer, the other a justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, became involved in a heated discussion over some legal complication.

At length they turned to Mr. Coolidge for an opinion.

"Who raises this question?" asked the latter.

"No one has raised it at this time," they replied. "But it is possible that the question will come up at some later date."

"Time enough to discuss it when it comes up," said Mr. Coolidge. That ended the discussion.

Theodore Roosevelt possessed a passion for study and believed that a man was never too old to acquire new knowledge.

Shortly after he became Vice President, he went to Justice White of the United States Supreme Court, and said, "As you know, the duties of my office will afford me much leisure. Now I do not wish to spend this leisure in idleness, but in learning something new. Do you think it would be proper if I attended one of the Washington Universities and studied law?"

Justice White replied that such a course for the Vice President of the United States would not be dignified, but suggested an alternative.

He would give the Vice President some law books for study and once a week quiz him.

Mr. Roosevelt accepted the suggestion, but the assassination of President McKinley cut short its execution.

What Noted People Say

CHICAGO—All M. London, Republican presidential nominee in 1936, speaks his mind on relief: "We seem to have a certain intolerance toward those in need of relief. If that is true we are losing the pioneer spirit which recognized the vital needs of helping one another."

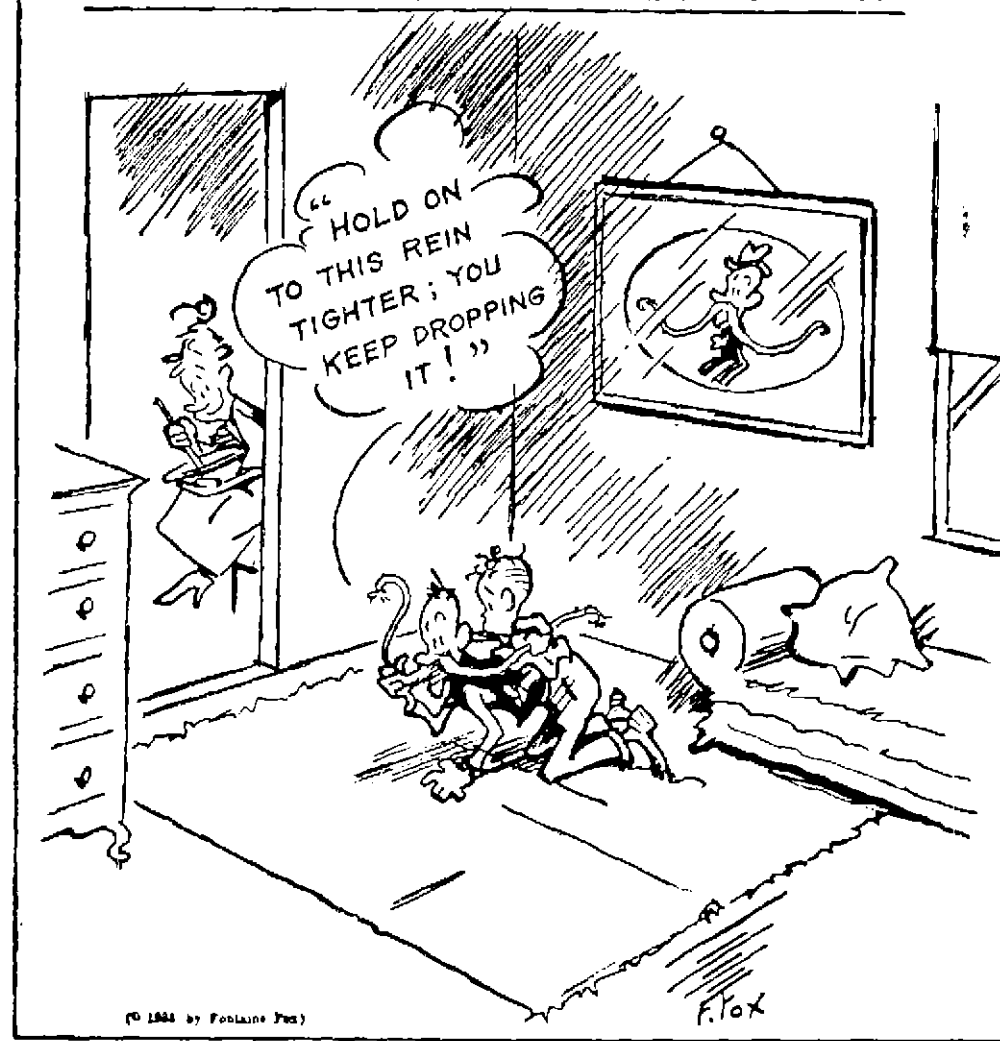

WASHINGTON—Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Montana) asks a "baneful" policy in primaries and said: "The Democratic party ought to be beaten if it continues to use relief funds for political purposes."

NEW YORK—Fire Commissioner John J. McElligott cautions firemen about driving too fast to a fire: "It is better to get in a few seconds late than to have an accident and not get in at all."

This poetic account of a cat fight was contributed by a reader who fails to reveal his identity. You be the judge as to its merit:

The alley cat sat on the fence And gazed with delight. He humped his back and curled his tail And said, "Come on let's fight."

The other cat sat down below And said, "All right let's go. I'll show you something pretty soon. It's my turn to show."

The alley cat jumped off the fence Prepared to start the fray. He gave a yell and stepped right in— Then there was hell to pay!

The other cat got really mad And butted him on the ear. And then he rolled him round and round And scratched him in the rear.

The alley cat got up on top And started him for fair; He tipped him up and down the back And filled the air with hair.

The other cat got busy then And gave an awful wall. He turned three double somersaults And grabbed him by the tail.

The alley cat ran up the street. Before the great assemblage. He knew that he had surely lost One half of his appendage.

The other cat sat on the fence; Exhausted, worn and sorry. But knew that he had done his best For the DETAIL in this story.

Roosevelt Points With Pride Latin American Policy Scores Plan Naval Maneuvers There

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 2.—When President Roosevelt leaves the White House, in 1941 or 1945 or whenever he does, he can point backward to one accomplishment that not even his bitterest critic can find fault with.

His administration is solidifying the Americas, North, South and Central, in admirable fashion. Uncle Sam was not overly popular from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn at the time of "P. D.'s" first inauguration. President Hoover did.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT
(Copyright, 1938)

Forcing Them Together

WASHINGTON, June 2. ONE EFFECT of the entrance of the Roosevelt administration into the Democratic primaries this summer is to make more certain a coalition of anti-New Deal Democrats and Republicans in the Congressional elections this fall. Largely, this will be an unofficial coalition, brought about by the voters themselves and without leader direction, but it will be a coalition—more or less—at least in spots, effective.

MOST experienced politicians agree about this. Most of them agree, too, that the revelation of the personal willingness of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hopkins to use the power given by the relief bill for partisan purposes has greatly stimulated the coalition tendency. Unless they want to be crushed by the weight of Federal funds, there is nothing else to do. The expectation is that in the coming election there will be a greater disregard of the party labels than ever before. Nothing else makes sense. Politics has reached a stage in America where continued adherence to either Democratic or Republican party by those not dependent upon them for a living has become too absurd to defend. Even in South Carolina recognition of this was given the other day when the Democratic State Convention by an overwhelming vote rescinded the rule picking voters who participated in the Democratic primary to support the Democratic national candidate.

UNQUESTIONABLY, the thought back of that action was that the departure of the Democratic party nationally from Democratic doctrines and alliances has been so great that in 1940 South Carolina, therefore, unsustainably Democratic, may not want to follow the Democratic standard-bearer—an almost inconceivable idea two years ago. If this sort of thing is possible in South Carolina, where the Democratic party is almost a religion, it can happen in any other Southern State, and to a greater degree north and west. While the strength of the party has been diminishing steadily up to 1937, the weakening process has been greatly accelerated since Mr. Roosevelt's own disregard of the party line, manifested in his willingness to endorse, accept and appoint Republicans in accord with his views, and to surround himself with advisers not even remotely concerned with Democratic party or Democratic policies—these things in the past few years have released a good many people from their inherent conservatism or required political realignments. For example, several millions of Negro voters, regarded as an unchangeable asset of the Republicans, have shifted over to the Democrats.

ALL PASSED NOW

All that hostility has passed. I know it from many associations in diplomatic circles in Washington and from still-surviving contacts in the southern republics. President Harding and Coolidge, following President Wilson, didn't improve matters much. They themselves were so important of conditions south of Key West. President Hoover, with excellent intentions, did not achieve anything in particular.

The trick has been turned by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull—in the right time, the right place and the right language.

A FLATTERING TRIP

Early in his term in the White House President Roosevelt took a trip down the South American east coast—to Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina. Of course, the Brazilians, Uruguayans and the Argentines were (Continued On Page Seven)

The readers of an English periodical are engaged in a search for famous first lines apart from the one with which Charles Dickens begins his Christmas Carol, "Marley was dead to begin with." Some of the late offerings are the following:

"Man is born free, but everywhere he is in chains"—from Rousseau's "Social Contract."

"In the mid-journey of our life below, I found myself within a gloomy wood. No traces left, the path direct to show."

"From Dante's 'Divine Comedy'." "On the 15th of May, 1786, General Bonaparte made his entry into Milan at the head of that young army which had just crossed the bridge of Lodi, and told the world that after so many centuries Caesar and Alexander had a successor."

Stendhal's novel, "La Chartreuse de Parme."

I recall a similar symposium over here which collected opinions as to the finest lines of poetry in the English language. I had a couple of favorites, not so much, perhaps, that I believed them to be the finest I had read, but because they had fixed themselves so firmly in my memory. They were these from Keats' "Ode to a Nightingale":

"Perhaps the self-same song that found a path Through the sad heart of Ruth, when, sick for home, She stood in tears amid the alien corn."

Another was from a poem by J. G. Keats in which he paraphrased a line of the prose from Cervantes' Don Quixote in the following manner: "God bless the man who first invented sleep!"

In regard to famous first lines I would submit to the consideration of our English searchers this one with which George Barr McCutcheon began his novel "Polly of the Circus": "The giant man led the way."

I understand that the military men of Europe and the United States are reviewing their opinions about the Japanese war machine. Undercover talk has it that the

MRS. DAVID BROWN GIVEN FAREWELL

Mrs. David Jones and Mrs. John Kenehan entertained at a lovely farewell party as co-hostesses on Wednesday evening in the home of the latter to honor one of their associates, Mrs. David Brown, who is leaving soon to take up residence in Pittsburgh.

The event was most successfully planned, taking the honored one by complete surprise. The time was spent with contests, with Mrs. Ed O'Neill winning the prize.

When festivities were at their height, Mrs. O'Neill sang a selected song to the honoree, and at the same time presented her with a miniature travel case which contained a collection of dainty hankies, mementos of those surrounding her.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Tom Piliant and Mrs. James Piliant of Mansur, O.

The hostesses had as aides, Mrs. Frank Phillips and Mrs. Phil Benninghoff.

As the assemblage departed, each expressed wishes for the happiness of Mrs. Brown and her family in their new surroundings. They will leave here on Saturday, June 11, for Pittsburgh.

1907 Club Meeting

Members of the 1907 club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Mary Geddes on Huron avenue Wednesday evening. Two tables of cards filled in the early hours, with Mrs. John Carr, Mrs. Lawrence Stevenson and Mrs. Joseph O'Laughlin winning the awards.

In serving lunch at a later hour the hostess was aided by her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Murphy.

Mrs. J. Earl Locke was welcomed into the club as a new member earlier in the evening.

Marsing Club

Mrs. E. T. Mitchell, of Walpole, entertained the Marsing members Wednesday evening. Miss Ruth Porter and Mrs. James Mann were special guests of the occasion and joined in the games which occupied the group through the greater part of the evening.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Stewart Cope, Mrs. Thomas Thomas and Mrs. Theodore Gunnert. A late lunch was served by the hostess.

In two weeks the club will meet at Mrs. Howard Moncrief's home on DuShane street.

Umberto Primo Auxiliary

Umberto Primo Auxiliary members will meet at the Humbert Hall, Division street, this evening, at seven o'clock.

K. O. F. Club

Members of the K. O. F. club will gather in the home of Eleanor Mott West Moody avenue, this evening.

LITTLE TOTS JOIN IN BIRTHDAY EVENT

Honoring her little three-year-old daughter, Rosanna, Mrs. Louise Burgo of East Washington street entertained a group of youngsters and their mothers at an informal party on Wednesday afternoon from two until four o'clock.

The hours were spent with games and stunts, and during this time pictures were taken of the group. The little guest of honor was presented with a collection of many pretty gifts which she opened before the serving of refreshments.

Seated about the large table, decorated in keeping with the birthday theme, the hostess served a tasty and attractive lunch. The "kiddie" motif prevailed in all details, and a large tiered cake, aglow with three candles, adorned the center.

Favors and toys were given as tokens of remembrance at the close of the entertainment.

O. F. T. Club

Mrs. Thomas Palmer was honored with a handkerchief shower, the occasion being her birthday anniversary, at the meeting of the O. F. T. club on a recent evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Erwin, Chestnut street.

Five hundred was played during the evening and prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Percy White and Mrs. Erwin. Mrs. Erwin also captured the door prize. A lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edward Redman and Mrs. Joseph Sockevitz.

Mrs. I. L. Bardley, 718 East Long avenue, will entertain the club members on June 9.

La Folia Allegra Club

Members of the La Folia Allegra club were delightfully entertained, Tuesday evening, when they met at the home of Miss Babe Marella on South Mill street.

Card playing was the chief diversion of the evening, with the prizes falling to Miss Annabelle Chetel and Miss Pauline Pazzone. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Betty De Carbo.

The special guest for the evening was Mrs. Nicholas Marcella.

In two weeks, Miss Betty De Carbo will receive the club at her home at 12 Maitland street.

Continental Club

Cards formed the pastime at the meeting of the Continental club on Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Badger, Ellwood City.

Mrs. Howard Osterling and Miss Jean Bloomer were the prize winners, with Mrs. Berkeley Dillon receiving the consolation prize.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Children Of Mary.

One hundred girls became members of the Children of Mary Sodality of St. Vitus church recently.

Impressive ceremonies were conducted. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor, gave out medals. Later in the evening the Rev. Fr. Butterbach, assistant pastor, delivered an inspiring sermon. After receiving holy communion in a body, the girls gathered in St. Vitus convent hall for luncheon. Jennie Latort, Jennie DeCarbo, Charlotte Blom and L. Pia formed the committee in charge of serving and preparing the lunch.

Spiritual Services

Rev. Dessel Thomas, of Pittsburgh, will be in New Castle Saturday and Sunday, the guest of Mrs. George Frey of 827 Addis street, and will conduct the spiritual services Sunday at Woodman hall.

Children Of Mary Sodality

Children of Mary Sodality, of St. Vitus church, held their regular monthly communion on Sunday at 8 o'clock mass. Following mass, the girls gathered in the Convent Hall for a communion breakfast, given by the Sisters of St. Vitus. The hall was beautifully decorated in blue and white and each girl was presented with a Rosary.

Camp Rentz Season Looms As Best In 'Y' History

When 14 more boys sign on the dotted line to share the opening week's fun at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A., it means that the campers' roster for the first week has been filled to capacity. And the 14 are expected to sign up shortly.

When 20 more sign for the second week, the roster for that period will be completed.

"A real season's ahead," Activities Director Henry T. MacNicholas said today. For 11 years MacNicholas has been director of the camp and he will again fill the role this summer. General Secretary R. L. Meersman will be camp manager. William "Burch" Winter will be director of recreational and athletic activities and other directors will be named soon to handle the religious and hobby and craft work.

Signed already for the camp's first week opening July 5 are:

Signed for the second week are:

Samuel L. Clark Is Reinstated

Sworn In After Court Action And Resumes Practice Of Law

By order of Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey, Samuel L. Clark was reinstated as an attorney-at-law on Wednesday, June 1. He was sworn in early Thursday afternoon by Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Mr. Clark was disbarred from the practice of law on November 21, 1935, due to a controversy which arose over a transaction between himself and a client.

Some time ago a petition for his reinstatement was handed up to the court, signed by 85 per cent of the attorneys of the Lawrence County Bar Association. The court granted the petition and Mr. Clark has resumed the practice of law.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Start To Plan For July 4 In Seventh Ward

Expect To Have Big Celebration In District Next Month—Committee Named

At the meeting of the Seventh Ward Civic club, held Wednesday noon in the Mahoning Methodist church, plans were started for the annual Fourth of July celebration for the district. President Raymond Horchler was in charge of the business meeting.

Reports on past events, sponsored by the club were made by several of the members.

President Horchler named the following persons as a committee to work out the details for the July 4 event. R. M. Barnes, chairman; Nick Canoy and Harry Elder.

According to the discussion heard at the meeting, it is hoped that this celebration will be the largest and best of its kind held in the Seventh Ward for a number of years.

Discussion regarding the paving of Cherry street, between the railroad tracks and Liberty street was heard and it was decided to take the matter up with council.

A delicious dinner menu, served by the ladies of the Methodist church, was enjoyed by the club before the business period.

Playground Fund Party Is Success

American - Italian Recreation Committee Of Ward Raises Money For Project

In order to raise sufficient funds to construct a first class playground in the Seventh Ward, and equip it with needed supplies, the American-Italian Recreation Committee, of the Seventh Ward, held a social and dance in the Columbus Society hall, Tuesday night. Those on the committee represent the following: Christopher Columbus Society, St. Margaret's Society, and St. Lucy's church congregation. The party was a success from all angles, and a very nice sum was raised by the event.

Those on the committee who were responsible for the success of the fund party included: Mrs. T. C. Rainey, chairman; P. R. Cardella, Pasquale DeLuca, Rev. Fr. S. J. Ippolito, James Cardella, Thomas DeVivo, N. R. Perrotta, Stella Lombardo, Mary Iovanelli, Mrs. Nick Perrotta, Mrs. Andrew Masters, Mrs. Thomas DeVivo, Mrs. Mike Lombardo, Mrs. Samuel Perrotta, Mrs. Paul Dominick, Mrs. G. D. Rainey, Mrs. Rose DiDario, and Mrs. Joseph Thomas.

Next regular meeting for the recreation council will be held on June 6, at 7 o'clock, in the Columbus Auxiliary recreation rooms.

MAHONING CHURCH TEAM GAME TONIGHT

Tonight at 6 o'clock the Mahoning Methodist church softball team will meet the team from the First U. P. church for what promises to be a fast game.

The game will be played on the P. & O. field, Cedar street, in the Seventh Ward.

Benefit Game For Mahoning Track Team Is Planned

Want To Purchase Cup For Ward Schools Winning Track Team Members

The Mahoning school athletic department is calling on all of the Seventh Ward citizens for support of a baseball game scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the E. and A. field, in the ward.

This game is being played to purchase a trophy cup for the Mahoning school track team, which won the city championship a short time ago. A free-will offering will be taken during the game Friday and the proceeds will go towards the purchase of this cup, a trophy which the boys on the team certainly deserve.

The game will be between the Mahoning Junior High team and the Ben Franklin Junior High boys. Austin Cowmeadow heads the Seventh Ward team and Bill Wallace is coach of the Franklinites.

Accident Victims Improving Nicely

It was learned today that the five persons who were injured in an automobile accident on North Liberty street last Saturday are getting along nicely at their homes.

All of the victims received cuts and bruises and although they still carry the bandages, their injuries are healing nicely.

Those who were injured in the accident include: Edward Houck, Mt. Jackson, driver of the car; Walter Evans, North Liberty street; Jean Humphrey, Clayton street; Dorothy Cushion, North Liberty street; and Genevieve Moss, North Liberty street.

OPPORTUNITY CIRCLE

Mrs. G. H. Cook, Newell avenue, will be hostess to members of the Opportunity Circle of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when they gather in her home for a regular meeting.

Mrs. Charles Dungan will be co-hostess. Mrs. Herman Rhodes will lead the devotionals. The topic for the meeting will be "India" and will be discussed by Mrs. Gertrude Marshall and Mrs. W. C. Patterson.

WANTS MORE GAMES

The Mahoning A. A. Reserves baseball team would like to book games with any fast team in Lawrence County.

Games may be had on any day of the week. Managers should contact Benny Pelosi, 203 South Ashland avenue, or call 3789-R.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Howard Cox, prominent ward merchant, visited in Pittsburgh Tuesday.

Mrs. Irene Robertson, North Cedar street, is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Leona Caldwell, Madison avenue, who has been ill at her home is now able to be out.

Samuel Fox and son, Herman, Tyrone, Pa., are visiting with relatives and friends in the ward.

Steve Orlando, West Wabash avenue, has returned to his home following a visit in New York City.

Mrs. Edith Bato, of 114 West Cherry street, has been admitted to the New Castle hospital for treatment.

Indict Six In "Trust Swindle"

Police Seek Two Unnamed Defendants In Connection With $16,000,000 Swindle

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Police today sought two unnamed defendants in connection with a $16,000,000 investment trust swindle which already has involved prominent persons here and in Washington and Boston.

Six persons were indicted yesterday by the New York county grand jury. They are: Vincent E. Ferreri, New York attorney; Philip A. Freat, of Washington, son of former Representative James Freat of Wisconsin; and Thomas W. Morris and Ralph H. Robb, Boston attorneys. Apprehension of the remaining two defendants was expected today, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office announced.

Ten counts are contained in the indictments which charge the six with running an original investment of $5 to the staggering $16,000,000 total. Conviction on all points would mean a maximum sentence.

of 120 years in prison for each defendant.

Ferreri was held in default of $25,000 bail, while Freat was at liberty in Washington under $5,000 bail. Robb and Morris, both at liberty under $5,000 bail, said they would fight extradition to New York state.

STATE AIDS NEW CANNERY INDUSTRY

HARRISBURG, June 2.—State certification of canning crops is one of the most rapidly expanding services of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Secretary J. H. French announced today.

Inaugurated in 1927, when 255,000 pounds of tomatoes were graded, this self-supporting service has grown to the extent that 167,141,000 pounds of canning crops were certified by state inspectors in 1937. During the past four years this service has more than doubled. Another gain of $7,000,000 pounds is indicated for 1938.

Democratic Split In State Near End

Lawrence Announces He Has Come To Understanding With Senator Guffey

HARRISBURG, June 2.—Fast-moving events within the Democratic party today indicated the split between the organization and the Guffey-CIO group may be nearing an end.

State Chairman David L. Lawrence announced he had come to an understanding with U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey and that Senator Guffey would support Charles Alvin Jones for governor and Gov. George H. Earle for U. S. senator.

At the same time the CIO state industrial union council met in executive session here and appointed a committee to confer with Lawrence, Earle and other Democratic leaders.

"The air is completely cleared between Guffey and myself," said Lawrence. "The senator will be in the fall campaign in behalf of the Earle-Jones ticket up to his neck." Reports were that Senator Guffey would attend the state committee meeting at Harrisburg, tentatively set for June 14, and announce his action there.

Basis for an agreement was said to be recognition of Senator Guffey as titular head of the state party and nomination of Matthew H. McCloskey, Jr., wealthy Philadelphia contractor and target of campaign insurgents, as chairman of the Democratic finance committee.

The 211,000,000 acres set aside for U. S. national forests equal the combined areas of Great Britain and France.

M. M. Henlein degree team of Grove
City, initiated a class of candidates in an impressive service Wednesday evening at the Protected Home Circle meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall.

This was the first appearance of the degree team, composed of young women outside of Grove City; the initiation was performed in a time manner, everyone agreed.

The meeting, which followed din-

GROUP AIDS HOSPITALS

The Junior Red Cross of the 5-B class of Arthur McGill school met Wednesday for their usual business session.

A report was given by Treasurer
Bill Evans. A very interesting account of the recent Red Cross banquet at the Cautledge Hotel was given by Joe Lutz. Jim Ludwig, Isabel Graham, Mary Shuttlesworth and Peggy Lamore read reports of their trips to the New Castle hospital, Crawford Oakridge Home, Jameson Memorial hospital and the Margaret Henry Home, to leave the scraps books made by this group.

Softly styled printed dresses with neatly spaced designs on dark grounds are popular for wear under the simple dark coats so much in vogue at the present time.

It takes approximately a mile of type to print a book of average length.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM
Memorial Day was fittingly observed by the residents of this community. The graves of the soldiers in the various smaller cemeteries were decorated by the American Legion and friends. Many went to the larger cities and cemeteries for the services.

The United Presbyterian cemetery of Moore's Corners is said to contain the bodies of soldiers of all wars fought in the United States.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest.
It just decays in the bowels. You bloat up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks lousy.

A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes two good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Harshness, cramps, yet unpleasant in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c.

Will Meet Monday To Push City Organization

The course of organization procedure for the new proposed New Castle city organization—unannounced as yet—which will make the job of aggressively promoting the city's advantages here at home and in the state and nation at large, will be charted at a conference in The Castle Monday evening, June 6.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath's office reported today.

Meeting there that night will be the five men designated to outline the preliminary groundwork for a strong, financially-sound group to be known as the New Castle Association of Commerce, the Greater New Castle Association or by some other name.

The organization committee's chairman is W. Keith McAfee, president of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company and long prominent in New Castle civic affairs. Often he has served with distinction in community-service posts and Mayor McGrath has asked him to serve at the helm, temporarily at least, of the new organization.

With McAfee will meet John J. Maher, of the Citizens National Bank; Norman E. Clark of the New Castle Mutual Building & Loan Association; and Secretary L. J. Lewis of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Loy H. Patterson, another member of the junior chamber.

The new organization was unanimously voted when a group of prominent New Castle business, industrial and professional men met for dinner last week.

Confirmation To Take Place Sunday

Seven Pupils Of Temple Israel Will Be Confirmed Sunday Evening

The last Sabbath service until September will be held at Temple Israel Friday evening, June 3. On June 5 at 8 p. m., the Confirmation will mark the end of religious activities until fall.

Sabbath, the Feast of Weeks or Pentecost, will be observed by the Jewish people starting Saturday evening, June 4. It is celebrated two days by Orthodox Jews and but one day by the Liberal group. The spring harvest was gathered in Palestine at this time of the year. More important is the fact that the Torah (Bible) is thought to have been received by the Hebrew people at Sinai in this period.

The festival takes its name from the fifty days which are counted from the second evening of Passover. It is one of the three pilgrim festivals, when the Jews travelled to Jerusalem to offer their first fruits at the Temple. The agricultural significance of the holiday is also seen in the reading of the Book of Ruth, with its idyllic scenes. The Book is also notable for the universalistic message in its story of the non-Jewess who became the ancestress of King David.

When the Reform Synagogue introduced the rite of Confirmation for Jewish youth, Pentecost, by virtue of its traditional association with the ancient revelation, was the day selected. Through an impressive public ceremony, young boys and girls having been taught the meaning of the Jewish faith and the duty of leading a religious and moral life, confirm this faith, as did their forefathers at Mount Sinai.

Seven pupils of the Religious School of Temple Israel will be confirmed by Rabbi Norman H. Diamond on Sunday evening of the coming week.

Would Improve On Anti-Aircraft Defenses Of Army

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Roosevelt recommended that congress appropriate $6,000,000 to improve anti-aircraft defenses of the army.

The accompanying budget bureau letter described the fund as being needed for "critical" material. The amount may be included in the last deficiency bill, slated to be passed by congress next week.

The $491,000,000 war department supply bill, now in conference, carries a $15,000,000 fund for anti-aircraft coast defenses.

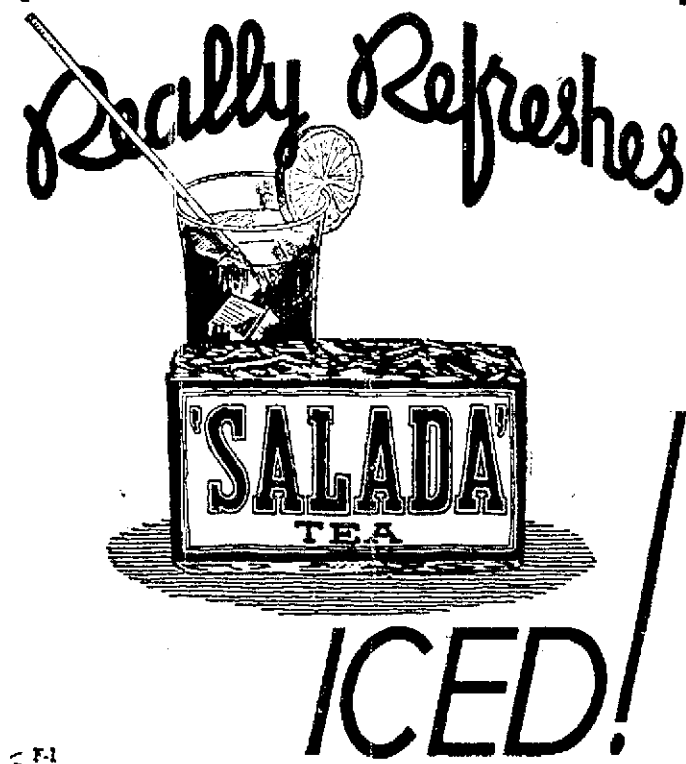

Campaign Probe Committee Named

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 2.—Vice President Garner named three Democrats and two members of minority parties to constitute a senatorial campaign fund investigating committee.

They are, Democrats, Senators Sheppard of Texas, chairman; O'Mahoney, Wyoming; and Brown, Michigan; Norris (R) Nebraska; and Austin (R) Vermont.

The committee is charged with investigating complaints of excessive campaign expenditures and other election irregularities.

Council Is Asked To Probe Killing Of Dog Recently

R. M. Howe presented a petition signed voluntarily to council at their meeting in city hall today which asked council to make an investigation of the killing recently on the North Hill of a valuable dog owned by Howe. The petition claimed the dog was killed without cause and requested the policemen responsible be discharged and regulations be adopted which would prevent future similar occurrences.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath informed colleagues that "this is the case of a man who violated the law of the commonwealth and suffered an unfortunate loss." The mayor informed colleagues that if they desired they could send the petition to committee and find out more about the case, which was done on motion of Councilman J. M. Rice.

The dog was shot early in the morning in Delaware avenue. The dog died later from its wounds.

Would Legislate Against Ransoms

Would Make It Illegal For Anyone To Pay Ransom In Kidnaping

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 2.—Expressing alarm over recent kidnappings, a bi-partisan drive was started in the senate today for consideration at this session of congress of bills which would make ransom payments unlawful.

The bills are sponsored by Senators Ashurst (D) of Arizona, chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, and Capper (R) of Kansas. Both senators argue that passage of the bills, which are similar, would remove the incentive for large ransom demands, and reduce kidnappings.

"If these fellows knew that they would not be able to collect large amounts of money as ransom, the chances are there would not be as many kidnappings," said Capper.

"Kidnaping is a terrible racket, and I'm not sure that my bill is a perfect answer to the question, but it is something along the line that is needed, and I intend to press for action this session in view of the recent kidnappings."

Ashurst also made it clear he would ask for consideration of his bill this session. He expressed concern over ransom payments which have failed to produce the kidnapped person.

Both bills would simply make it unlawful for any person to pay ransom or reward for the release of kidnapped persons. They would provide penalties for persons found guilty of paying ransom from $5,000 to $10,000 and imprisonment from two to four years.

Major And Minor League Officials Are In Conference

Will Discuss Recruiting Of College Stars By Big League Teams

(International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—Prominent major and minor league baseball executives went into session here today to discuss the future relationship of professional and college baseball.

The meeting was an outgrowth of discussion caused mainly by charges that professional clubs were recruiting college players away from their studies and in some instances, aiding star undergraduate performers financially.

Representing the major leagues today were Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Braves, Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals, Tom Yawkey, president of the Boston Red Sox, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators.

From the minor leagues came George M. Trautman, president of the American Association; Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta club, and Elmer Daily, president of the Middle Atlantic league.

Present to give a picture to the collegiate side of the story were L. W. St. John, Ohio State university athletic director, Frank G. McCormick, Minnesota athletic director, Phil Badger, New York university graduate manager.

City Officials In Pittsburgh Can't Use Funds

Restraint From Using Money Collected From Police And Firemen In Campaign

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 2.—City officials were restrained today from using funds collected from police and firemen during the recent primary campaign for the Democratic party by a preliminary injunction issued by Judge Thomas M. Marshall.

A petition brought against Mayor Cornelius D. Seely and several councilmen by the Fraternal Order of Police was sustained by the judge who held the solicitation of contributions had the effect of coercion on the ordinary citizen because "I don't think the director superintendent or mayor ever intended to resort to reprisal," Judge Marshall said.

"But someone with a spread knowledge of human nature devised the scheme of getting a return of cash which would build trust in the police force if they did not contribute."

Prior to the last election, Mayor Seely announced he had distributed cards to police and firemen asking them to donate voluntarily to the party. He stipulated they should sign the cards whether or not they donated.

Prof. R. G. Leslie Develops New Teaching Plan

A revolutionary new method of teaching the number facts in arithmetic is explained in a book recently published by Prof. R. G. Leslie, principal of Arthur McGuffey and Highland avenue schools in this city.

For many years, the author, thru experimentation, observation, training and experience has been building the background that makes possible the evolution of this new method, which he calls the intrinsic method of teaching the basic number facts.

This method calls for certain departures from traditional methods, and conservative members of Prof. Leslie's profession were at first doubtful of the soundness of his theory. By its use in various schools during the past year, however, the method has proved its value and promises to become more and more generally accepted.

Musical Program Is Enjoyed By Kiwanis

An entertaining musical program, featuring contributions of students of Mrs. Garth Edmundson, marked the weekly luncheon of New Castle Kiwanians at The Castleton yesterday. The program was arranged by B. French Johnson, chairman of club programs.

Mrs. Lila Staylor contributed three vocal selections. She sang the first number in German. In the group were "The Dream-Theme" by Wagner, "Homage" by Bel-Rizzo, and "If Flowers Could Speak" by Maria Zuccz Delbert. Fletcher, baritone, sang "Lasciate Mi Morire" by C. Monteverde, "The Fisherman's Widow" by Ireland, and "Old Mother Hubbard" in the style of Handel.

Mrs. Edmundson accompanied the singers.

Mission Plans Its 'Fellowship Day'

The City Rescue Mission is planning a fellowship day service for Sunday, June 5. Among those attending will be present Arthur Lither, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Gregory, musical artists from Cleveland. Clifton Gregory has exceptional ability in cornet playing and will render the famous selection, "Open the Gates of the Temple." He will be heard in one of the churches on Sunday morning. The other musical artists will be the Silverlys of Akron.

Vernon Kennedy Wins Number 8

Tames Yarks For Eighth Straight Victory, Pirates Topple Giants

INDIANS LOSE TO ATHLETICS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 2.—Mickey Cochrane is beginning to smile thru his tears. In fact, he's almost ready to burst right out laughing any minute now as he recalls the pain he got from the home fans in Detroit last winter when he shipped off the popular Garry Walker and brought in Vernon Kennedy.

Today, as he gives the statistics the once over, he notes with no little satisfaction that Kennedy has hunked up eight victories without a defeat; that Hank Greenberg has 13 homers to his credit; and that the Tigers are over the 500 mark and only five games behind the league-leading Indians.

Kennedy turned in victory No. 8 at the expense of the Yankees whom he trimmed 8 to 4 yesterday. Honkers by Gehrig, Dickey and Crosetti accounted for all the runs off the tall Tiger.

Greenberg's homer was a tremendous smash into the left field stands only a few blocks from his birthplace. If the first baseman continues his present pace he will make 54 homers this year. It is not inconceivable that he might even top Babe Ruth's record 60.

The Yankees missed a grand opportunity to close in on the Indians who were knocked off by the surprising Athletics, 9 to 5. Seven of the Macklin runs were due to homers by Chapman, Hayes and Johnson, who got his hit with the bases densely populated, and bolstered by such hitting, Nelson managed to go the route.

Rookie Vins Game.
Rookie Charles Wagner made his first start a winning one for the Red Sox who had little trouble beating the Browns 5-3 after Manager Joe Cronin hit a homer.

The Senators cut down the gap between themselves and the Yankees by knocking over the White Sox, 5 to 4, on Johnny Lewis' ninth inning hit.

The Giants moved into Pittsburgh with high hopes of welcoming their ancient cousins, the Pirates, and wound up on the short end of a 4-1 count. The Giants are now beginning to look like little wonders. They made only five hits off Russ Bauers and have scored only one run in their last three games.

Reds Top Dodgers.
The defeat brought the Giants back closer to the Cubs and Bees who idled the day in the rain. The fast moving Reds trimmed the hapless Dodgers, 4-1, on a nice five-hit effort by Johnny Vander Meer. Key homered for the lone Dodger run, but this was offset by another of like dimensions by Irvy Goodman, who leads the league's home run brigade with 11.

And with Medwick and Slaughter inserting homers among a 16-hit barrage, Ray Harrell of the Cardinals had little trouble in winning a 9-4 verdict over Messers, Mulcahy, Passerau and Smith of the Phils.

Americans Will Battle For Cup

American Team Hopes For Success In Walker Cup Matches Starting Friday

By THOMAS C. WATSON
International News Service Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 2.—Fresh from their triumphs and failures at Troon, the American Walker cup team members are now trying out the old course at St. Andrews where the Walker cup matches will be fought out tomorrow and Saturday.

The actual team and the lineup will not be made available until tonight. Tomorrow will be devoted to scratch foursomes, that means only one ball will be used by each side and the team members striking alternately.

More Accustomed.
This form of "foursome" is typical of the Scotch game and the British players are more accustomed to this method than the Americans, but in the previous matches their familiarity with this type of match has not benefited them to any extent and the Americans are confident that they will match at least three of the four matches scheduled for tomorrow.

On Saturday the singles will be played by eight members of each side who need not necessarily have taken part in the foursomes. So concentrated have the Americans been on winning, or at all events making a great show in the "British amateur" that there has been little tendency to discuss their chances in the Walker cup.

Base on balls—Off Lorelli 2; off Bessemer 1.

Struck out—By Lorelli 1; Reed 2; by Hardesty 8.

Babe Ruth still attracts the attention of fandom whenever he appears at any of the big league parks.

Note about Lou Gehrig: the box score showed a mere single for Columbia Lou Gehrig, Tuesday.

his presence in the game meant more than the single. . . yesterday saw Ole Rawhide participate 2,000 straight ball games for one of the greatest individual endurance marks in the history of sports.

The mark started in 1925 and Gehrig finished with a mark of 295.

since then, Gehrig has always past the 300 mark in batting.

right now, (Wednesday) Columbia Lou is experiencing one of the worst slumps in his career.

so far he has batted but four homers and only 33 hits for a batting average of .280.

don't worry though,

he'll be up there at the finish line.

many believe the cowboy picture he appeared in affected his eyes, causing his slump.

quite a few fans have given Gehrig the boot.

its the way of sports, one day a hero, the next day a bum.

no doubt, the bugs who are jeering him are the same ones who have been thrilled countless times by those famous Gehrig whacks over the wall.

Gehrig explains the bugs with the following comment:

"Its the movies. The current crop of haywire pictures with good, patriotic and wise-cracking characters has turned everybody into comedians."

he'll be up there at the finish line.

Elma Houk And Philip M. Cole Married Today

Wedding Quietly Celebrated In Parsonage Of Slippery Rock Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—This morning at 9:45 o'clock a quiet wedding ceremony took place in the parsonage of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church when Miss Elma L. Houk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Houk of Castlewood, became the bride of Philip M. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Cole, Wayne township.

The vows were pledged in the presence of the immediate families of the young couple, with the Rev. Thomas Berger, pastor, officiating with the impressive single ring service.

For her wedding, the bride was becomingly attired in a Parisian street length cape suit with matching accessories. With it, she wore a large natural lagoon hat, and her shoulder bouquet was made up of Tulipen roses. Miss Naomi Steel, as her only attendant, was attired in a royal blue street length ensemble with accompaniments to match, and her shoulder corsage was of red roses.

Russell Myers served the groom as best man.

Appropriate wedding music was contributed by Mrs. Thomas Berger, as the bridal party entered the living room. Just preceding, Miss Frances Worrell, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Berger, accompanist.

Immediately following a short congratulatory period, the wedding party departed for East Palestine, O., where a breakfast was served at a prominent tea room, covers marking for four. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Cole continued on their trip, their destination being unrevealed. Their attendants will return here early this evening.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle Business College, and is affiliated in the offices of Fisher Brothers Company on South Jefferson street. The groom, a graduate of Ellwood City High, is associated in business with his father as a contractor.

Upon their return in a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Cole will reside for the present in their apartment on Lawrence avenue, Ellwood City. Both have a host of friends in New Castle, Ellwood and surrounding vicinities.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

Many people have been taking advantage of the free road map service and information offered by the Chamber of Commerce. Up-to-date maps of every state and Canada may be secured and additional information concerning the various points of interest. Maps of Canada are in demand. The sudden announcement of the early summer mail vacation took most people by surprise and those contemplating trips have not had much time to make arrangements.

A pre-school clinic is being held this week at Lincoln high school for pupils of pre-school age who will be eligible to enter school in September. The examinations are given now in order that parents may have any necessary corrections made during the summer months, avoiding the loss of school in the fall. Examinations are being given by the school doctor and school nurse.

Residents of Marion township residing at Fombell and vicinity are rejoicing over the completion of the hard surfaced road leading from Fombell to the Ellwood-Zelienople road, near Zelienople. The road was constructed on the old Harmony street car roadway and its elevation prevents the danger of the road being closed due to high water, which often was the case with the old road. It follows the Connoquessing creek and provides much in the line of rustic scenery.

Farmers are busily engaged these days making an effort to get their corn planted. "Dogwood blossom time" is considered by most farmers to be the ideal planting time, but the cold, wet weather of early May prevented an early planting.

Pastor Accepts Zelienople Call

ZELIENOPLE, June 2.—Rev. Phil Seiberling, pastor of the Ruffsdale Lutheran church in Westmoreland county, has accepted a call to the local English Lutheran church and will come here July 3 to take up the work at the local church permanently.

Rev. Seiberling was given a call by the local congregation about three weeks ago at a congregational meeting and came here since then and gave his acceptance to the president of the council, H. E. Harper. He was graduated from the Mt. Airy Theological Seminary in Philadelphia four years ago, and has been at the Ruffsdale church since then. He with his wife and their small daughter, will move to the parsonage on High street after it has been remodeled, the last week in June, and he will take up the work in the church July 3.

The congregation here has been without a pastor since the death of Rev. Oliver R. Heil, on February 27, from carbon monoxide. He was overcome in the garage in the rear of the church, when he started his car with the large doors closed, and died in the Ellwood City hospital without regaining consciousness.

Memorial Class Has Hamburg Fry

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—A merry event of Wednesday evening was held by members of Class 4 of the Bel Memorial Presbyterian church, who gathered at Ewing Park for an outing.

A Hamburg fry was the first feature of the evening after which the hours were devoted to playing tennis on the Ewing Park courts. Plans for the next meeting will be announced.

Martha Householder Dies On Wednesday

Relative Of Many Local People Passes Away At College Hill Home

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Miss Martha Elizabeth Householder, aged 14 years, passed away Wednesday morning at 5:40 o'clock at her home 4012 Fourth avenue, College Hill, where she was taken ill on Thursday with a streptococcus throat infection.

Miss Householder, who had a large number of relatives residing in North Sewickley township, was a student of the College Hill Junior high school and a member of the College Hill Methodist church. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Householder; her grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Householder, of New Brighton; and the following brothers and sisters, Albert, Beaver Falls, Mrs. C. F. Keppen, New Galilee; Walter, Beaver Falls, Wayne, Earl, Dorothy and Carl, at home, and Mrs. John W. Brenner, Beaver Falls.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence with Rev. Charles A. Tracey officiating. Interment will be made in the Concord cemetery, North Sewickley township.

Benefit Bridge Parties Of Woman's Club In Progress

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—To secure funds for the playgrounds, members of the Ellwood City Woman's club under the supervision of Mrs. E. B. John, chairman of the ways and means committee, are having benefit bridge parties during the week at the various homes. Yesterday, Mrs. Robert Balderson, Mrs. Keith Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Stevenson and Mrs. Betty Hall graciously entertained a group of friends at the Balderson home on Glen avenue. Six tables of bridge formed the afternoon's diversion, with the high score awards to be presented at the conclusion of the series.

For the occasion, the home was prettily decorated with garden flowers and the hostesses served tempting refreshments.

Last week, Mrs. J. Ellis Bell entertained at a most successful party at her home on Spring avenue and today Mrs. Charles Ralph of Line avenue and Mrs. Harry Ebsen of Pittsburgh Circle are entertaining. Friday, Mrs. A. P. N. Thomas has planned a party at the Hostess House.

Memorial Program To Be Presented Tonight At Pleasant Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Several members of the Pleasant Hill grange attended the June session of the Lawrence County Pomona grange held on Wednesday at Westfield grange with a very large attendance of members from the various granges.

Included in the local group were: Mr. and Mrs. John Boots, Mrs. Harry Boots, Jerry Boots, Mrs. Carrie Hazen, Mrs. Ida Hazen, Mrs. Jesse Weingartner, Mrs. Fred Weingartner, Miss Florence Weingartner, Mrs. Essie Friday, Mrs. Jean Friday, Mrs. Jane Friday, Miss Betty Friday, Mrs. Henry Fox, Eugene Fox, Ray Marshall, Mrs. Velma Aiken and Miss Cloy Aiken.

A special program was presented in the evening by the juvenile grange. The next Pomona meeting will be held in September.

Tonight the regular meeting of the Pleasant Hill grange will be held at their hall on the Ellwood-Portersville road. For the occasion a special Memorial program has been planned.

Easy Aces Club At Ellport Home

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Mrs. Arthur Green, of Ellport, was a special guest of the Easy Aces club whose members were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Jacob Seich, of Ellport.

Two tables of 500 occupied the attention of the members with the awards going to Mrs. James Duley and Mrs. Everett Garwig. The hostess served a most delicious lunch at the close of the evening.

For the next meeting, on Wednesday evening, June 15, Chester Craven will be hostess at her home in 7th street.

Mrs. David Jones Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Little Bridge club members were graciously entertained for their bi-weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. David Jones, of Adams street, Ewing Park.

Mrs. Judd Liebendorfer and Mrs. John Krosel were awarded trophy prizes for winning high scores. The hostess was assisted in serving a dainty lunch by her sister, Miss Marjorie Liebendorfer.

For the next meeting in two weeks, the members will meet again at the home of Mrs. Harold Johnston, of Pittsburgh Circle.

Garden Club To Meet On Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—On Tuesday afternoon, June 7, members of the Ellwood City Garden club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Moss Landraugh on Glen avenue.

For the program, Mrs. H. R. Smith will present a paper on "Roses" and Mrs. R. B. Curry will give a discussion on "Delphiniums." Each member is to bring an arrangement of flowers to be judged.

Mrs. D. S. Jones and Mrs. A. M. Jones will be associate hostesses.

SONS OF UNION AUXILIARY ELLWOOD CITY, June 2—Members of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary will meet on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the V. F. W. hall. An initiation service will be held. Following the social hour, a committee will serve refreshments.

Knox Bible School To Open On June 7

Sixth Annual Daily Vacation Bible Session Plans Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Tuesday morning, June 7, will mark the beginning of the sixth annual daily vacation Bible school to be held at the Knox Presbyterian church.

The school will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings from 9:30 a. m. to 12 o'clock, E.S.T., for a period of three weeks, closing on Friday, June 24.

The school is interdenominational and is for all children of the community, regardless of their church affiliations. All children of the ages of 4 to 12 inclusive will be welcomed.

Two divisions are held, a primary and a junior, and the daily activities include a variety of interesting subjects, including Bible study work and memory work, song periods, play periods, and a handwork period.

For the past several years the attendance has averaged 100 at the daily sessions. Various awards will be given to the pupils for various achievements, including memory work, attendance, etc.

At the close of the school, a program will be presented by the pupils to display the work that has been accomplished with the parents and friends as guests.

Mrs. Robert E. Bell has been the general supervisor of the school since its organization and this year she will be capably assisted by a corps of church workers of the community.

Zelienople Schools To Close On Friday

ZELIENOPLE, June 2.—Zelienople schools will close Friday. Commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening when 72 members of the senior class will receive their diplomas.

A farewell party was held on Wednesday evening by the faculty, thus being the last get-together meeting. Several members of the faculty are leaving. Mr. J. Sijander, coach, has accepted an assistant coaching position in Butler, and Mrs. Ruth Braun and Miss Esther Johnston, primary teachers, will be married soon.

LADIES AID SOCIETY ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—On Wednesday, members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church gathered at the church for their regular June meeting.

The twelve members attending devoted the day to cleaning the church and at noon, they partook of an appetizing luncheon. Mrs. Sharrp Jones conducted the business and devotional periods. On Wednesday, July 8, the next meeting will be held.

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE CLASS ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Owing to the mill vacation, the June meeting of the Friendship circle of the First Methodist church will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Emory Neuman of Wiley Hill.

SWEAR OFF FISH STORIES

International News Service
LEWES, Del.—A tall story to end all tall stories is contained in a resolution adopted by the Lewes Anglers Association.

"We solemnly stated Captain W. I. Pennewell, 'have sworn off fish stories. No more will members of the association issue padded and phony accounts of the size and amount of fish we caught.'"

"TOO MUCH!" SAYS CONNIE

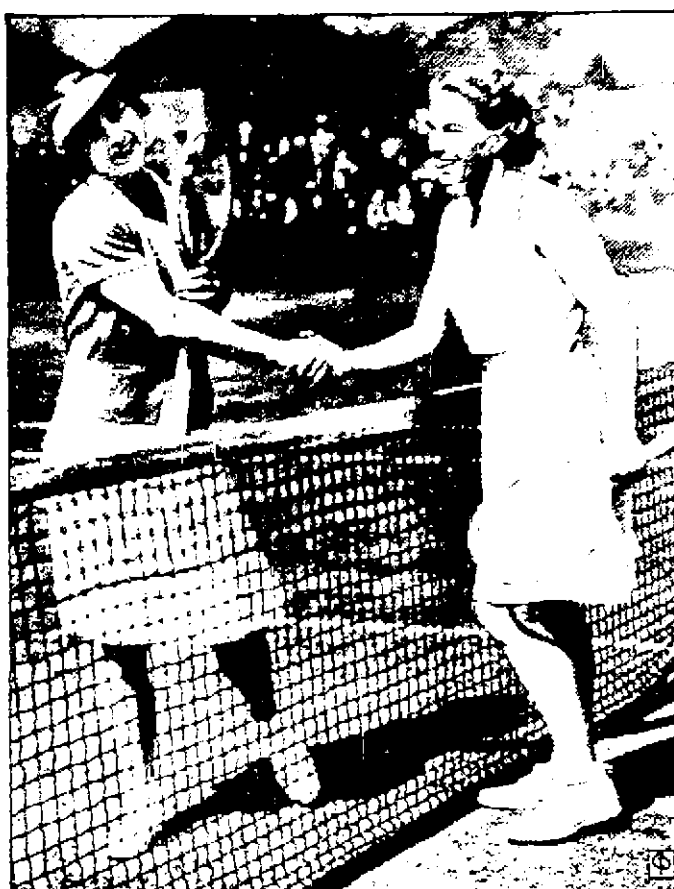

Connie with the painting in court

Will Pogary, the artist, plans to stick to his art in the matter of Constance Bennett's red fingernails. He told a Hollywood court jury this in his suit against the blonde actress for $2,500, his price for a portrait of her which she says is too much and won't pay. "So I went to see her but she wasn't in. Her secretary told me the fingernails should be red, something should be cut off the waistline, the hair should be different, the thigh was a little fat and there was something about the eyes."

MIAMI, Fla.—Maybe ancestry has something to do with it for his father was a member of the famous team of huskies that went with Admiral Byrd to the South Pole.

Anyway, "Helium" a 10-month-old dog, is a member of the regular ground crew at the blimp landing here. Every time the blimp returns from a trip carrying sightseers over this resort area, "Helium" grabs a certain landing rope and hangs on until the big ship is brought down safely. He also knows enough to let go the rope if a sudden gust of wind carries the blimp upward.

It's his own idea, this blimp-landing man, says his owner, Capt. J. A. Beutner.

Thought to be for the purpose of a game and bird refuge in this county, the commonwealth has purchased approximately 215 acres of land in Big Beaver township for which cash was paid at an average of $10 per acre.

The game commission has been buying up wooded lands throughout the state for refuge purposes and in other cases has put a single strand wire fence around land owned by private individuals where they expressed a desire that their land should be a sanctuary. In the present instance the land was sold outright to the commonwealth.

All employees of the county treasury office have been retained by County Treasurer V. T. Mandich, he announced today. With his deputy John L. Heisinger, Mr. Mandich believes he can handle the work with the staff now employed and no other announcements are expected for the present at least.

Arrangements are under way at the present time, which if carried through to a successful conclusion will result in a county project in public utilities. The graves of ex-service men and women of all wars will be put into shape, headstones straightened, and depressions filled.

Stamp Collectors Hold Interesting Meeting Wednesday

Many Valuable Specimens Are Displayed At Meeting In Local Hotel

A very interesting session of the Lawrence County Philatelic society was held Wednesday evening in the Leslie Hotel. In the absence of the president, A. O. Dunn, the secretary, Frank Boyes, served as leader for the business meeting.

Plans were discussed regarding a permanent meeting place for the club. A number of proposals were made and several were considered as excellent for the purpose of the club.

Many of the collectors had on display collections and portions of collections in which many valuable specimens were found. A portion of the meeting was devoted to examining the collections.

Arthur M. Brown was in charge of the program, and the meeting was turned over to him at the close of the business period. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the social committee.

There are about a hundred and twenty-five varieties of goldenrod, most of which are found in the United States. They are cross-fertilized by butterflies and bees, and are typical insect-pollinated plants. The pollen gives a positive hay fever reaction, but not being wind-borne, can cause hay fever only upon direct inhalation.

According to the old Connecticut blue laws, no man was allowed to court a maid in person, or by letter, without first obtaining the consent of her parents.

Convention At Clifton Flats

Missionary Convention Will Open At Mission On Friday Evening

REV. AND MRS. DURVEY

Clifton Flats Mission will have its annual missionary convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 3, 4 and 5, with Rev. and Mrs. John A. Durvey, of the Oriental Missionary Society, who were formerly missionaries to the Orient and have only recently returned from a world tour, as guest speakers.

The couple, on their tour, visited the Orient, France, England and Palestine. At the convention here they will be dressed in costumes of several of the countries, and will tell of their trying experiences as missionaries.

Services Friday and Saturday evenings will be at 7:30 o'clock. Three services are planned for Sunday: 11 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.
